Working for a healthy workplace
CROET is the Center for Research on Occupational and Environmental Toxicology at OHSU. Our mission is to promote health and prevent disease and disability among working Oregonians and their families. We do so through basic and applied research, outreach, education and health monitoring.

Target audience

Workshop description
Motor vehicle use is one of the greatest hazards many employees face on the job. This symposium will address insights gained from research, success stories and successful working models to assist attendees to better address motor vehicle safety on the job and in their work places.
