

Helpful Websites

www.ohsu.edu

This is OHSU's homepage. It includes information regarding Oregon Health & Science University and Doernbecher Children's Hospital. You can also access information about specific departments as well as general information about our philosophy and goals. This site also includes links to other websites about the Portland area.

The Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery's webpages can be accessed at:

<http://www.ohsu.edu/surgery/UCT/index.shtml>.

INFORMATION ON PORTLAND, OREGON

<http://portland.citysearch.com>

Information about Portland, Oregon can be found here. In addition to a search box for specifics, this site includes visitor information, local entertainment, restaurants, and local attractions.

www.pova.com

This is the website for Portland Oregon Visitors Association. There are terrific maps on this site (click on Portland-area maps) and an extensive list of information regarding the Portland area. Statistics, attractions, resources and relocation information can all be found on this website.

<http://www.el.com/to/portland/>

This site, Welcome to Portland, also offers many "essential links to Portland". They offer a variety of maps, as well as a "CityLink", which allows you to find information on other cities in Oregon.

<http://www.saturdaymarket.org/>

This is the website of our local open-air market. Saturday Market is a great place to find one of a kind handmade crafts. They have an amazingly wonderful variety of food booths, as well as local musicians, clowns and street performers to entertain you.

<http://www.portlandfarmersmarket.org/>

The Farmers Market downtown (Saturdays and Wednesday afternoons) is one of the best events in Portland. The variety of organic produce, meats, desserts, cheeses, plants and flowers is mind-boggling. There are multiple, mouth-watering food vendors, concerts, strolling musicians, and cooking classes, all happening under the beautiful trees of the Park Blocks right in the middle of downtown.