The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window with the address bar displaying a URL. The main content area contains a form with several questions. Question 4.1 asks if subjects have been withdrawn or complained about the research process, with radio buttons for 'Yes' and 'No'. The 'No' radio button is selected and highlighted with a red box. A yellow callout box with a blue border points to the 'No' radio button, containing the text: "Select No, for question 4.1, have subjects withdrawn or complained about the process." Below question 4.1 is a text area for details. Other questions include 4.2, 5.1, 5.2, and 6, each with radio buttons and text areas.

4.1. Have subjects withdrawn from or complained about the research process? Yes No

4.1.1. If yes, please describe in detail:

Select No, for question 4.1, have subjects withdrawn or complained about the process.

4.2. Have subjects been withdrawn from the research by the Investigator? Yes No
If yes, use an attachment to list the number of subjects withdrawn and an explanation for each withdrawal

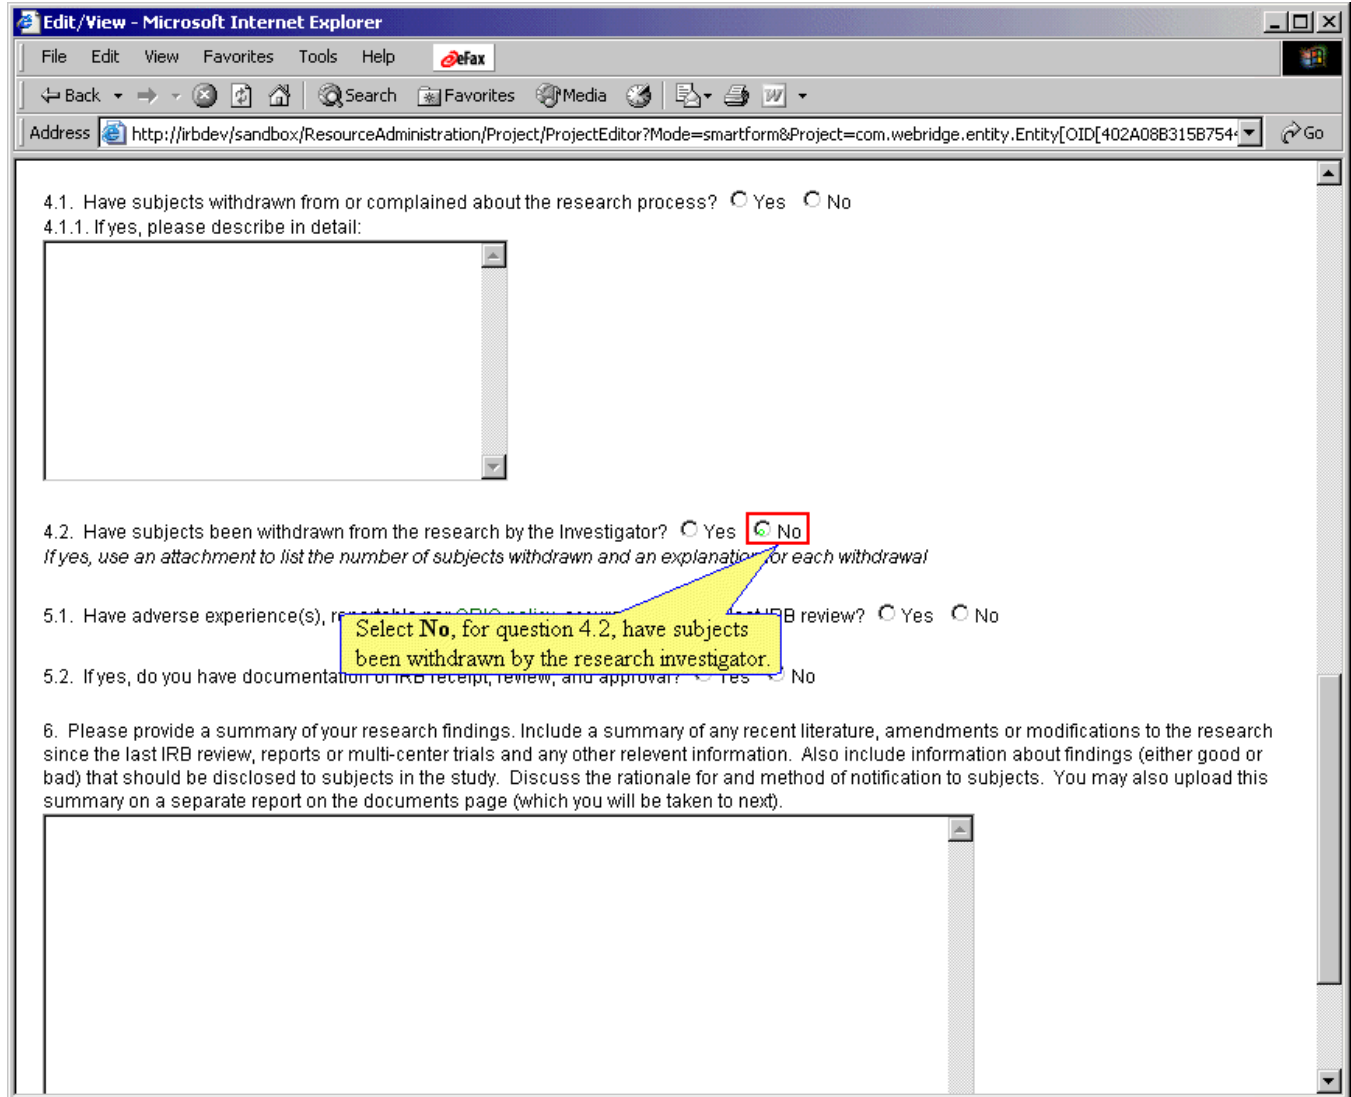

5.1. Have adverse experience(s), reportable per ORIO policy, occurred since your last IRB review? Yes No

5.2. If yes, do you have documentation of IRB receipt, review, and approval? Yes No

6. Please provide a summary of your research findings. Include a summary of any recent literature, amendments or modifications to the research since the last IRB review, reports or multi-center trials and any other relevant information. Also include information about findings (either good or bad) that should be disclosed to subjects in the study. Discuss the rationale for and method of notification to subjects. You may also upload this summary on a separate report on the documents page (which you will be taken to next).
