The Frank Doernbecher Guild

The Frank Doernbecher Guild honors individuals who have established gift plans benefiting Doernbecher Children's Hospital at Oregon Health & Science University.

The guild is named in honor of Frank S. Doernbecher, who in 1921 left $200,000 through his will (administered by his daughter Ada and son Edward) to benefit the people of Oregon. The Doernbechers were convinced of the need for a special hospital to serve needy children under the care and supervision of the University of Oregon Medical School.

On October 14, 1923, plans for the new hospital were announced, along with its purpose: to advance the care and prevention of childhood diseases through research and training of future health care providers. The Doernbecher family specified that patients would be received in this hospital regardless of their ability to pay.

Additional funds were needed to build the new hospital, and in July 1924 the Doernbecher Guild was created to raise and distribute funds in support of the project. Thanks to these efforts, a six-story hospital opened on Marquam Hill on July 30, 1926. Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children was born.

Today Doernbecher is the Northwest's premier pediatric hospital, providing exceptional family-centered care to the children of the region and beyond.

Your legacy can help change the world for children.

The legacy of Frank Doernbecher and of all those who have included Doernbecher Children's Hospital in their long term plans have helped make Doernbecher a leader in pediatric research and family-centered care.

For more than 80 years, Doernbecher Children's Hospital is where children and their families have turned for help, healing and hope. Today's Doernbecher is Oregon's premier pediatric health center, providing the region's widest range of children's health care services and serving as the primary center for Oregon Health & Science University's pediatric programs. As part of OHSU, Oregon's only health and research university, Doernbecher offers patients outstanding primary care and access to leading-edge treatments. In addition, Doernbecher is home to some of the world's best pediatric researchers. And every year, its dedicated staff train tomorrow's pediatric specialists.

More than 56,000 children make more than 150,000 visits to Doernbecher each year. They come from every county in Oregon and southwest Washington, from surrounding states and far beyond.

Your deferred gift will have a lasting impact on the health and well-being of the region's children. Your gift also qualifies you for membership in the Frank Doernbecher Guild whether you choose to support Doernbecher generally or to direct your gift to support a specific program, department, research area or endowment.

Patient Michael Ross goes for a wild ride.

Ways to Plan Your Gift

Bequests

Gifts by will or revocable living trust may be for a specific dollar amount, a percentage of your total estate or a residual amount remaining after all specific bequests and expenses have been paid. Doernbecher can also be named as a contingent beneficiary if primary beneficiaries predecease you.

Beneficiary Designations

Naming the Doernbecher Children's Hospital Foundation as beneficiary of retirement plans, life insurance policies, transfer-on-death accounts and commercial annuities allows you control of the funds during your life and provides a probate-free transfer of assets. This type of estate gift can lessen both income and estate taxes.

Life Income Gifts

A life income gift enables you to make a significant contribution while protecting or improving your personal financial situation. These gift plans provide income for life or a term of years, an immediate income tax deduction and the potential for reduced estate taxes. The most common life income gifts are charitable gift annuities and charitable remainder trusts.

Real Estate with Retained Life Interest

A gift of a remainder interest in real estate allows you to transfer ownership while retaining the right to live in your residence for the remainder of your life. An income tax deduction is available for a portion of the value of the real estate. It is also possible to convert the retained life interest to a stream of income.

You can also give to Doernbecher through other gift vehicles, including donor advised funds and charitable lead trusts. Our gift planners are available to assist you in exploring the possibilities.
