

Diversity and Inclusion Awards

DIVERSITY AWARD FOR OUTSTANDING RESEARCH | DEADLINE: MARCH 22, 2013

The Diversity and Inclusion Awards recognizes outstanding contributions of diverse students, faculty, staff, and community members to creativity, innovation, quality patient care, educational excellence and outstanding service.

At OHSU, we embrace the full spectrum of diversity, including age, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender identity or expression, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, and socioeconomic status. We respect and support diversity of thought, and ideas in nurturing an inclusive environment.

The “Outstanding Award for Research” recognizes completed or ongoing research work that have contributed substantially to the literature and to the field, focusing health disparities among underserved populations, social determinants of health, issues of diversity among varied racial and ethnic backgrounds, ageism, women’s issues, sexual orientation and disability.
