

Center for Ethics in Health Care

Inter-professional Ethics Fellowship Program

Purpose

To establish additional personal goals and an individualized plan in inter-professional ethics education by:

- Increasing knowledge of ethical theory and practice in the delivery of health care
- Enhancing bioethical awareness in teaching, healing and discovery at the University and the community
- Improving ethical decision-making by the application of ethical analysis and problem solving
- Fostering health care values, principles and professional codes in all patient care activities

Application Process

- Application form sent to potential applicants referred or expressing interest
- Candidate completes application form with essay and submits to Center
- Candidates selected by Development Committee using standard process
- Development Committee recommends to Ethics Center Executive Committee for final approval

Year I: Ethics Consultation & Related Skills

- Summer Seminar in Bioethics, University of Washington
 - ❖ One week of intensive ethics study
- OHSU ethics consultation training
 - ❖ Twice-monthly evening sessions led by faculty
 - ❖ 6 in-depth case analysis papers
 - ❖ Present one paper in evening session
- Participation in core events of Center as appropriate (Bioethics Study Group, Senior Clinicians' Seminar, Kinsman Conference, Palliative Care Conference, participating in Ethics Consultations)
- Mentor provides guidance during entire fellowship
- Performance evaluated by faculty and Development Committee to recommend for Year II

Faculty & Staff

- Administrative Director,
Barbara Glidewell
- Curriculum Director,
Robert Potter
- Education Coordinator,
Joel Nava
- Development Committee:
Judith Baggs, Phyllis Beemsterboer, David Clarke, Lynn Jansen, Mary Denise Smith, Susan Tolle
- Reviewers, above faculty and:
Gary Chiodo, Joel Friedlander, Linda Ganzini, Dan Kennedy, Dennis Mazur, Osamu (Sam) Muramoto, Molly Osborne, Thomas J. Prendergast, Hugo Richardson, Elizabeth Steiner, Robert Shook, Erick Turner

Year II: Knowledge Application

- Mentor relationship continues
- Select a track (ethics consultation, policy development, research ethics, teaching or work place ethics and complete a related project)
- Twice-monthly evening sessions on selected topic or fellow project report
- Critique one Year I Fellow's paper, participate in the Year I session when paper is presented
- Participation in core events of Center as appropriate (Bioethics Study Group, Senior Clinicians' Seminar, Kinsman Conference, Palliative Care Conference, participating in Ethics Consultations)
- Development Committee assesses performance and recommends future Ethics Center role to Executive Committee which approves future role

Inter-professional Ethics Fellowship Certificate

