Wound.

i. Scalpel

What may look like an insult to the body, in some contexts, is really a prayer.

ii. Sutures

Parts of us are built by other people’s steady hands.

iii. Scar

The body does not stop to grieve, but it is faithful, it does remember.

By Sonja Halvorson