Annual Report

2010 - 2011

"This is a moment for all the future generations of dentists and for all of the communities in which we will serve. Thank you for investing in Oregon. Thank you for investing in education. Thank you, for investing in me." – Thalia-Rae Criddle, Class of 2015

New Building Celebration a Historic Day for OHSU School of Dentistry

The moment alumni and friends have long been working toward finally arrived in mid-October with a ceremony commemorating the beginning of construction of the OHSU School of Dentistry's new tower on the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building. The new tower, known as the Skourtes Tower, will house all clinical, research, and educational offerings beginning fall of 2014.

"It's great to see you all gathered here today. This is our moment!" Dean Jack Clinton, D.M.D. '64, told hundreds of dental students, alumni, faculty, staff, and friends at a standing room only event on Oct. 19. "This is the moment we have been planning for and talking about for many, many years.

"I am thrilled to be standing on the very spot where we will launch the next era for our school," he said. "And I am proud that in my lifetime we will see this dream realized."

Collaboration Key

The gift of land from the Schnitzer family, the recommendation by a Blue Ribbon panel of experts that a new dental building was necessary, OHSU's collaboration with the Oregon University System, and significant philanthropic investment are making the new building possible. Bonnie and Gene Skourtes, D.M.D. '68, have pledged $10 million; ODS Health has committed

Dean's Message

What a difference a year makes! Not only are we coming off the largest fundraising year ever, which is incredible, but we have broken ground on a new facility for our 112-year-old school that promises to launch us into a new era. Can you believe it?!

One year ago, the Blue Ribbon panel was convening to address the future of dental education, ultimately recommending that OHSU move forward with a new building for the School of Dentistry. But the actual facility was still a dream.

Eight months ago, we were told we needed to secure $18 million in three months to re-locate our entire enterprise to the new OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences building on South Waterfront. When this was announced during the Oregon Dental Conference, even our most stalwart supporters admit they were skeptical of our chances.

Then in June we received our first major gift from Bonnie and Gene Skourtes, D.M.D. '68, a transformational investment of $10 million. The Skourtes' gift came at precisely the right moment and proved a game changer for the whole new building concept. We have never had a living alumnus even make a million dollar gift, so their $10 million pledge was nothing short of amazing.

The really inspiring part of the Skourtes' gift is that it turned the tide for us, motivating the dental community to support us like never before. Many of you doubled, tripled, or stepped up with gifts that are 10 times greater than your usual generous giving or came up with creative ways to challenge others to match your gifts. These wonderful gifts are a classic example of how philanthropy drives excellence and how, in these tough economic times, we can do more when we work together.

We closed our fiscal year at more than $19 million in philanthropic gifts, which is nearly three times the record of $7 million set one year ago. In mid-October, we broke ground on a 66,000 square foot facility, the Skourtes Tower, that will be our new home in less than three years.

Our new building is real. You can believe it. But we aren't there just yet. We still need to raise $16 million over the next three years to complete our fundraising goal. I am confident, based on your generosity to date, that we will meet this goal.

Words cannot express how grateful I am for your continued support and stubborn belief that we can and should proceed with a new facility. It is because of you that our dream will become a reality.

Everyone has a stake in helping to build our new era. I am so proud that we will leave this legacy together.

$5 million; and A-dec, Inc., is providing $4.35 million in state-of-the-art dental equipment. Another $8 million in commitments have been received from alumni and friends across the region, most recently $250,000 each from the Oregon Dental Association (which brings the ODA commitment for the new building to $500,000) and the Oregon Academy of General Dentistry.

“The OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building came about because of the combined power of philanthropy and innovation,” said OHSU President Joe Robertson, M.D., R '82, M.B.A. “It will enable us to find new ways of educating students collaboratively, establishing new models of clinic care. I see it as a beacon for health care and we can be proud of a profession where we can do more working together than as individuals.”

Teaching the basic sciences curriculum to all OHSU and OUS health undergraduates in one location is a huge benefit of the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building. “When I heard the plan for the new dental school, I said ‘Wow!’” said Dr. Skourtes. “This was an opportunity to quickly and definitively bring the school into the 21st century. We will stimulate research and enhance education that will enable us to continue to provide quality oral health to Oregonians. OHSU is going to be on the leading edge of health care education by breaking down silos that have kept the specialties separated. It was a no-brainer for me.”

Dental education is more important than ever, noted ODS Health President Bill Ten Pas, D.M.D. '73, who was joined at the ceremony by ODS Health Vice President Teri Barichello, D.M.D. '98. “The mean age of dentists in Oregon is 58 and we’re not replacing them fast enough,” he said. “OHSU plays an important role in fulfilling the health care needs of people in Oregon.”

A-dec, Inc., President Scott Parrish, joined by A-dec, Inc., Founders Ken and Joan Austin, said that it is critical for dental manufacturers to have knowledgeable dentists to work with in designing equipment. “I’m excited that OHSU dental students will be getting training in a state-of-the-art facility with the most ergonomic equipment possible,” he said.

The Class of 2015 – who arrived in August and will be the first dental class to graduate from the new building – joined the celebration in between classes, gathering onstage with energy and enthusiasm to thank donors and alumni for their investments. “This is a moment for all the future generations of dentists and for all the communities in which we will serve,” said first-year dental student Thalia-Rae Criddle. “Thank you for investing in Oregon. Thank you for investing in education. Thank you for investing in me.”

new dental school began in 1999. Named the Centennial Million Dollar Campaign, it was co-chaired by Paul Jr., D.M.D. ’53, and Donna Kunkel and Richard, D.M.D. ’58, and Jean Bates ’59, M.S.N. ’71. Dr. Bates died in 2000, but Dr. and Mrs. Kunkel and Mrs. Bates all attended the new building celebration in October.

Longtime friends OHSU School of Dentistry Dean Jack Clinton, D.M.D. ’64, and OHSU President Joe Robertson, M.D., R ’82, M.B.A., share a moment at the OHSU School of Dentistry’s new building celebration. “I don’t know of anyone more stubborn to this dream in the dental community than Jack Clinton,” said Dr. Robertson. “Without his perseverance, this building would not have happened.” (Photo Aaron Bieleck)

Prior to the campaign to raise $43 million, $8 million had already been raised for the new building through previous campaigns. With almost $28 million now pledged, the school still needs $16 million to complete its new building, noted OHSU Foundation President Allan Price.

“I hope when you get that call asking you to donate to the new building that you’ll remember this moment and inspiration of the people who made this moment possible,” he said. “Thank you for your passion and commitment and belief in our future.”

Here is the latest iteration of the new dental school tower (left) atop the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building. The six-story, 66,000 square foot tower will be named the Skourtes Tower. The main entrance to clinical services is on the street level at the far left (behind the Tri-Met bus). Classroom space for bringing together all the specialties for basic science courses is in the space colored orange.

What's Inside the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building?

In addition to the Skourtes Tower, which will house OHSU School of Dentistry's entire clinical, research, and education enterprise, the 480,000 square foot OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building will contain:

- Portland State University's biology and chemistry lectures and laboratories;
- Education space for OHSU medical students, physician assistants, and radiation technologists;
- Oregon State University's College of Pharmacy (third year of joint OSU/OHSU program);
- A state-of-the-art simulation center where clinical teams train side-by-side;
- OHSU Center for Spatial Systems Biomedicine;
- Labs for research in basic and applied science and engineering;
- Shared instrumentation labs with electron microscopy, NMR, and other specialized, sophisticated instrumentation;
- Ground floor retail space for lease

Names: Steve, D.M.D. '80, and Dannel, R.D.H. '77, Beadnell

Hometown: Portland, Ore.

Gift: Dr. Beadnell and his wife, Dannel, are longtime members of the Dean's Gold Circle. In July, Dr. and Mrs. Beadnell pledged $100,000 to the campaign and he challenged the 40 members of his Sunset Study Club to contribute an additional $400,000. To date, Sunset Study Club members – many of them non-OHSU School of Dentistry graduates – have donated $240,000.

New Building Footprint

The Skourtes tower atop the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building is more than 66,000 square feet. It is 325 feet in length and between 65 to 72 feet wide.

Currently, floors 11 and 12 are slated for specialty programs, including the School's new Advanced Education Graduate Dentistry Program. Floor 10 will house administrative and faculty offices; the eighth and ninth floors are for pre-doctoral clinic programs with the six group practices split between the two floors; the fifth floor is for operational lab procedures, and will include the new central sterilization for OHSU's first dental school-owned and controlled instrument management system.

"There is a lot of classroom and small group meeting space in this building," said Phyllis Beemsterboer, M.S., Ed.D., associate dean for academic affairs. "Our new space will enable us to increase the incoming dental class annually to 90 students, from 75 students."

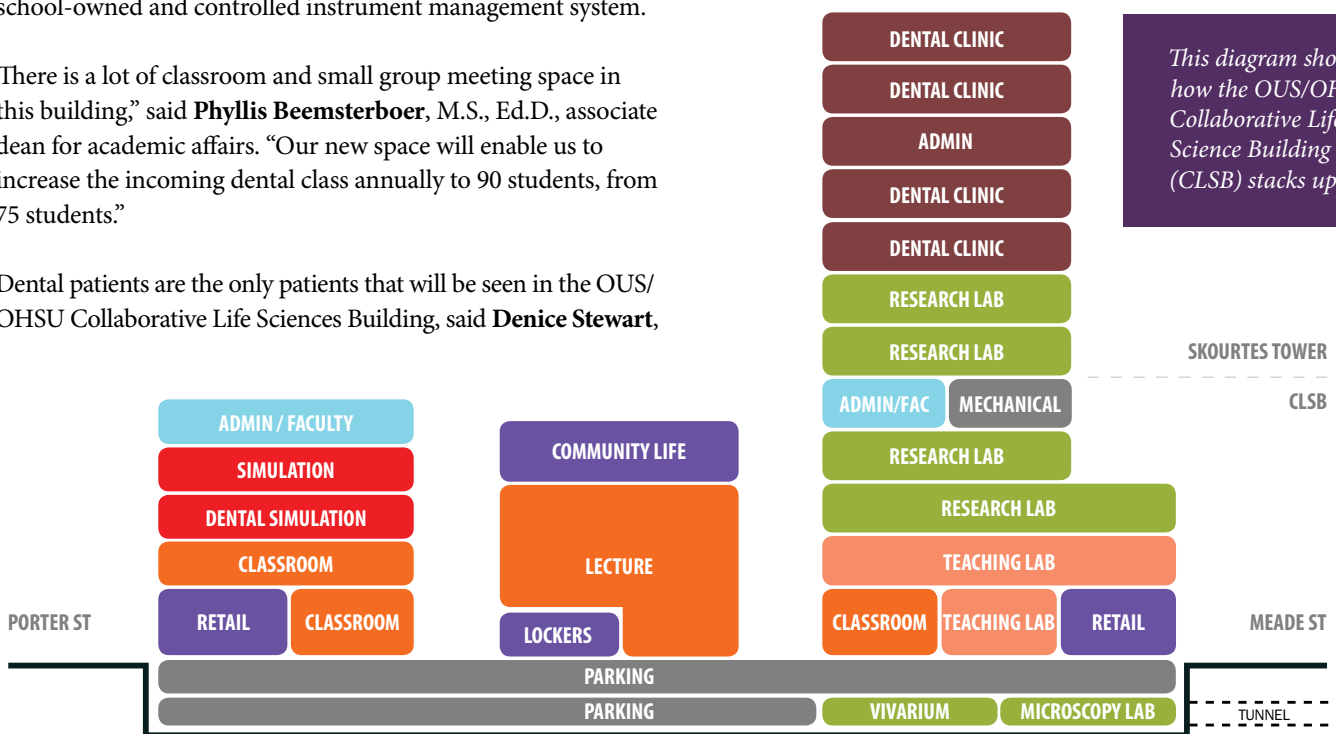

Dental patients are the only patients that will be seen in the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building, said Denice Stewart, D.D.S., M.H.S.A., associate dean for clinical affairs. Each group practice floor will have its own waiting area and patient consultation rooms with a large shared huddle room, lab, and dispensary.

"We have a long tradition of educating the region's best dentists and we will continue to provide Oregon with the oral health experts that it needs to carry on this tradition," said Dr. Clinton. "I am proud that in my lifetime we will see the dream of a new building realized."

To make a gift toward the new building, please contact Director of Development Patrick J. Regan, (503) 494-0980, reganp@ohsu.edu.

Dean Clinton to Assume New Role Jan. 1

Fresh off the School's successful new building celebration, Dean Jack Clinton, D.M.D. '64, announced at the end of October that he is transitioning to a new role overseeing completion of the Skourtes Tower on the OUS/OHSU Collaborative Life Sciences Building. Dean Clinton will assume his new role Jan. 1, with the title of Dean Emeritus.

"It's time," he said. "I feel very good about the decision. Working toward a new building for the school was actually a role I was interested in seven years ago before being asked to serve as Interim Dean and then the role of Dean. So my life is coming full circle."

As part of his new full-time role, Dr. Clinton said he will be intensely involved with the planning and construction implementation – everything from helping to implement the school's new instrument management system to fundraising for the remaining $16 million needed to finish the project to setting the clinics hours of operation.

"There is an immense amount of effort going into planning the new building," he said. "Timelines are tight and our key people are being stretched thin. Given this dynamic and all that we are planning with new educational programs, along with the need for raising significant funds before the end of the campaign, I began thinking about strategies to ensure the building happens the way we want. Dividing the Dean's responsibilities into two seems the right thing to do."

Taking on day-to-day operations of the dental school will be Gary Chiodo, D.M.D. '78, F.A.C.D., a longtime faculty member who practiced at the Russell Street Dental Clinic for 20 years and is a "passionate advocate for community health." Most recently, Dr. Chiodo has been OHSU's Chief Integrity Officer. Beginning Jan. 1, Dr. Chiodo will assume the role of Interim Dean as the school launches a national search at the end of the academic year for a new dean.

"I will miss many aspects of serving as dean, but I'm delighted to have this new opportunity," said Dr. Clinton.

Raising $16 Million More for the New Building

Donning sparkly "Our Moment is Here" sashes, OHSU Foundation Trustees Jill Price, D.M.D. '92 (right) and Steve Beadnell, D.M.D. '80, vice president of the Alumni Association board, recently made an impassioned plea for new building funds.

"Now the real work needs to happen," said Dr. Price, speaking to the 200 alumni and friends at the Dean's Gold Circle dinner on Oct. 22 at The Allison Inn. "We still have almost $16 million to raise for the new building.

"We need to rally our friends and colleagues who have not yet donated and do whatever it takes to raise funds, including bake sales, car washes, and dunk tanks," she said. "Recruit your study clubs, throw personal parties, or have a high stakes poker night, whatever it takes to get the job done."

Dr. Beadnell asked alumni and friends to "be an army of one." He said, "We need everyone's conviction and commitment to move forward with the new building. My challenge for each of you is to be a better leader and make a bigger difference.

"I know that we can count on you to be our ambassadors for our new dental school building campaign."

New Building Donor

Name: Peter Wagner, D.M.D. '92

Hometown: Chehalis, Wash.

Gift: Dr. Wagner has long been a Dean's Gold Circle member, giving $1,000 annually to the OHSU School of Dentistry for the past 14 years. After hearing in person this August about the school's new building plans, Dr. Wagner wrote a check for $100,000.

New Building Donor

Name: Cathryn Majeran, D.M.D. '79

Hometown: Portland, Ore.

Gift: Dr. Majeran served on the very first committee for a new dental school building. She and her husband, Monte Bricker, have long been financial supporters of the dental school at the Dean's Gold Circle level and they had made a significant gift to the new building in a previous fundraising campaign. But "when I heard that Gene (and Bonnie Skourtes) had made such a wonderful gift, I doubled [to $50,000] my new commitment to the building campaign," Dr. Majeran said. "I figured that if they can give that much of their personal wealth, then I can do that, too." Dr. Majeran says part of her gift includes a matching challenge in an effort inspire others to step up to a gift level that is above what they have done previously.

Honor Roll of Donors 2010 - 2011

The following is a list of donors to the School of Dentistry at Oregon Health & Science University from July 1, 2010, to June 30, 2011. Please note that many of our new building gifts were made after the fiscal year closed and will be listed in next year's Annual Report. We have made every effort to compile a complete and accurate honor roll of donors. We offer our apologies for any omission or inaccurate listing and would appreciate your bringing them to our attention:

Dean's Gold Circle

The Dean's Gold Circle recognizes alumni, friends and faculty who take a leadership role in supporting the OHSU School of Dentistry. Membership is recognized for donors who contribute $1,000 or more annually. Gifts may support any program or initiative. However, unrestricted gifts provide the dean with the greatest flexibility to address priorities as they arise.

Sam Jackson Guild

The Sam Jackson Guild is named in honor of Charles Samuel Jackson, who donated land that is now the OHSU campus on Marquam Hill in Portland. Jackson was the founding publisher of the Portland Journal and a widely respected philanthropist. All donors who establish gift plans that are designated to benefit OHSU schools and programs are honored through the Sam Jackson Guild.

Annual Phonathon Raises Nearly $100,000 for School of Dentistry

Alumni and dental student volunteers calling on behalf of the OHSU School of Dentistry late fall garnered $97,460 in seven nights.

“We continue to be successful at phonathon fundraising because we’re all on the same page. We’ve all gone to the same school and we are proud of our institution,” said Dean Jack Clinton, D.M.D. ’64.

Sixty percent of the funds raised are for the Dean’s Fund for Excellence, said Dr. Clinton, which pays for the school “extras” such as scholarships, scientific meeting travel, research incidentals, etc. Thirty-one percent of phonathon funds were designated by donors for the school’s new building. The remaining nine percent was directed by alumni to other school funds.

“We had a great class and the phonathon not only provides us with another opportunity to get together, but to reconnect with classmates and find out what’s going on in their lives,” said Mark Miller, D.M.D. ’79, who volunteered to make calls on the first night.

Martin Burbano, D.M.D. ’88, Jeff Van Orman, D.M.D. ’97, and Scott Walker, D.M.D. ’98, collectively contributed $25,000 to the new building as part of the Sunset Study Club Challenge (see page five). The offices of Development and Alumni Relations offer a big ‘thank you’ to all the alumni and dental students who took the time to participate in this year’s phonathon, as well as thanks to Honorary Alumni Punky Scott for providing the great meals from The Bomber Restaurant & Catering Company.

*Alumni Association board members and first-year dental students enjoyed getting to know one another at the Class of 2015 Welcome Dinner in the School’s second floor lounge in October. More than 60 first-year dental students and nine board members – including Jim Smith, D.M.D. ’81, Ann Caingcoy, R.D.H. ’77, Erin Hill, R.D.H. ’03, Mark Alder, D.M.D. ’80, John McComb, D.M.D. ’77, Tom Pollard, D.M.D. ’74, Michelle Crocker, D.M.D. ’04, Scott Barry, D.M.D. ’96, and Martin Burbano, D.M.D. ’98 – enjoyed chili, chips, corn muffins, salad, and desserts. ## ADA Alumni Reception

Eighty alumni, friends, dental students, and faculty attended the OHSU School of Dentistry’s reception during the American Dental Association annual meeting on Oct. 11. Alumni in attendance were from classes ranging from 1964 to 2010. Holding a “mini-reunion” during the ADA reception were (from left) Melanie Grant, D.M.D. ’09, Alison Buccat, D.M.D. ’09, Jamie Lyke, D.M.D. ’09, and Jennifer Driver, D.M.D. ’09. ## Message from the Alumni Association President

The Goal. Raising $16 million to complete fundraising for the new dental school is no more a daunting task than graduating from dental school. Just as each one of us was confident enough on our first day of dental school that we would graduate in four years, so too, we have the confidence to complete the fundraising goal. Already almost $28 million of the $43 million needed has been pledged through gifts and five year pledges. The undergraduate requirements have been completed. Now we just need to complete the graduate level fundraising goal. How will this be done? We made it through dental school one test at a time, one requirement at a time. The same tactic is how we will amass $16 million through additional gifts and five year pledges.

The Beadnell Plan. My colleague and vice president of the Alumni Association, Dr. Steve Beadnell, D.M.D. '80, suggested one time that all we need to do is convince every alumnus to make a five-year commitment to contribute the fee of one procedure a month to the new school. Once a month, the general practitioner could do a two-surface posterior composite restoration and contribute the fee to the fund for the new school. The specialist could pick a similar ordinary fee, as well. We all know that big goals are accomplished by breaking them down into small tasks. The math is simple. Pick a procedure in your office that has a value of $170. Once a month you contribute the fee for that procedure, making your annual contribution $2,040. As a five-year pledge to the new school's capital campaign you have now contributed $10,200.

Participation is what matters. An important aspect of this once-in-our-lifetime capital campaign is increasing the number of individuals who participate. This means convincing an individual who has contributed $25 annually in the past to increase their pledge to $25 a month for the new school. In doing so, a five-year contribution of $125 is now a $1,500 five year pledge. Every gift matters and reaching $16 million will require that we have more individuals participating in the fund raising efforts than we have had in the past.

2014. Ground has been broken in the South Waterfront area of Portland for the new school and the first patients will be treated there in fall of 2014. In addition to the pre-doctoral clinic, there will be a new continuing dental education facility. The new school is going to benefit not just the students, community, and patients, but also currently practicing dentists. Each of us had the confidence, knowledge, and persistence to graduate from dental school. Those same attributes are what is needed to complete the fundraising for the new OHSU School of Dentistry building.

I've made my five-year pledge to the new building. Now I challenge you to make yours!

Barry Taylor, D.M.D. '95
Alumni Association President

Cantwell Memorial Weekend Combines Golf and Restorative Dentistry

Back to School Weekend, now in its 30th year, drew 230 alums and friends to its two events the last weekend of September.

The Cantwell Memorial Golf Tournament was Sept. 23 with a field of 132 in a hotly contested race for the top spots. An alum-dental student-staff-friend team took first place this year: Steve Timm, D.M.D. '78, third-year dental student Matt MacArthur, Gary Cantwell (son of Kenneth Cantwell, D.M.D. '43, for whom the tournament is named), and School Development Director Pat Regan, shot a 57 for first place. There were three teams who shot 59, tying for second place.

"This has always been a special event," said OHSU Alumni Relations Director Mark Kemball. "Thank you to the sponsors, alumni, friends, and volunteers who made it all possible."

Nathan Tanner, D.M.D. '00, won the putting contest.

The next morning, for the Cantwell Memorial Lecture/Margaret M. Ryan Dental Hygiene Update, Glen Johnson, D.D.S., M.S., professor of restorative dentistry at the University of Washington, presented "Dental Adhesives and Luting Agents: What should you use and why?" to an audience of more than 100.

Class Notes

Class of 1951

Ellsworth Foreman, D.M.D. '51, Spokane Valley, Wash., was in general practice for 41 years in the Spokane Valley.

Walter Johnson, D.M.D. '51, Vancouver, Wash., spent 17 years in the U.S. Navy after graduation. After receiving a master's degree from Ohio State, he went into private practice in Oceanside, Calif. Dr. Johnson was on faculty at the University of Texas Health Science Center and was also on faculty at OHSU. He has been mayor of Seaside, Ore., and he and his wife, Gladys, have three children, six grandchildren, and 18 great grandchildren.

Gwenlee Riedel, R.D.H. '51, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, practiced with her husband in Pullman, Wash., until they retired in 1992. Gwenlee said she is nearly blind, but continues to travel, live alone, and has many activities.

Class of 1956

Dr. Richardson has run five marathons, most recently the Boston Marathon. He completed a humanitarian mission in South America with the Air Force. He is married to Kari.

MISSION OF MERCY

Hundreds of OHSU School of Dentistry alumni, faculty, and dental students volunteered at the Oregon Dental Association's Mission of Mercy Nov. 21-23 at the Oregon Convention Center. More than 2,000 people were treated at the large-scale, free dental clinic, care worth about $1.1 million, said Oregon Dental Association President Greg Jones, D.M.D. '64. "This is for the greater good," said Dr. Jones, who helped set up for the event and volunteered both days. "It's important to put back into the community. I can do free dentistry any day of the week in my [Hermiston, Ore.] office, but doing dentistry as a group for a segment of the population that will not end up in an office ... and the camaraderie ... is wonderful." Fourth-year dental student Brittany Fox (left), shown here with Dean Gregson, D.M.D. '95, was one of 150 dental students who were excused from class to take a six-hour volunteer shift. ## Legacies Account for 13 Percent of Class of 2015

Dentistry continues to be a family affair at OHSU, with 10 from the School of Dentistry Class of 2015 reporting parents, grandparents, or siblings who are graduates of Oregon's only dental school. The legacies for the Class of 2015 include:

- Kenneth Gilbert (sister is Danielle Gilbert, D.M.D. '07, Reno, Nev.);
- Elise Grellmann (grandfather Robert Kellogg, D.M.D. '51, who died in 2000);
- Matthew Mauger (father is Michael Mauger, D.M.D. '90, Eagle River, Alaska);
- Bradley McGowan (brother is Kenneth McGowan, D.M.D. '11);
- Bryan Neish (father is Scott Neish, D.M.D. '82, Beaverton, Ore.)
- Jordan Peterschmidt (brother is Tyler Peterschmidt, Class of 2014)
- Raymond Reeves (father is Gordon Reeves, D.M.D. '76, who died in 1991);
- Lauren Royse (father is Michael Royse, D.M.D. '87, Sherwood, Ore.)
- Marcus Uchida (father is David Uchida, D.M.D. '78, Ontario, Ore.)

Another four first-year dental students reported having OHSU dental relatives such as aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Applications Up for Fall 2012

By early November, the School had received 1,113 applications for the Class of 2016, with another 49 confirmed applications on their way, said Mark Mitchell, M.A., associate dean for student affairs. With an additional 128 applications possible, "this is another record breaking year for us as we have surpassed last year's 1,148 applications," said Mark.

Bryan Neish

Legacy: Father is Scott Neish, D.M.D. '82, Beaverton, Ore.

Age: 23

Degree/School: B.S. in Physics, Loyola Marymount University

Why Dentistry? I love helping people, with my hands, and learning on a continual basis, all of which are part of the daily life of a dentist.

Why OHSU? I selected OHSU because of the strong clinical emphasis of their program and the great faculty and staff working there.

Elise Grellman

Legacy: Grandfather was Robert Kellogg, D.M.D. '51, College Place, Wash., who died in 2000

Age: 23

Degree/School: B.S. in Microbiology, Oregon State University

Why Dentistry? I felt that it was a career path that allowed me to capitalize on my strengths and also provided me with the opportunity to provide a very necessary skill to improve the lives of those around me.

Why OHSU? OHSU is well-regarded as an excellent clinical school and I wanted to attend a school that could offer me a solid foundation in the fundamentals of dentistry.

Lauren Royse

Legacy: Father is Michael Royse, D.M.D. '87, Sherwood, Ore.

Age: 22

Degree/School: B.S. in Human Physiology, minor in Chemistry, University of Oregon

Why Dentistry? It was something I grew up watching ... and it's all I could ever see myself doing. Just seeing how much something like pulling an infected tooth or filling a cavity can change someone's outlook on their day or in their life made me realize that my dream to emulate my father was a great one and something that I wanted to work night and day for.

Why OHSU? OHSU is close to home and has always been my dream school. When I got the invitation to join the Class of 2015 it was a no brainer.

Jordan Peterschmidt

Legacy: Brother Tyler Peterschmidt is Class of 2014

Age: 20

Degree/School: B.S. in General Science with Chemistry minor, Oregon State University

Why Dentistry? Hands-on and detailed work, very specified area of medical care, able to have own practice/business and four day work week!

Why OHSU? In-state, good reputation, good faculty, and well-established.

Excellence in Education

Summer Session Expands

Based on recommendations from the School of Dentistry's Strategic Plan five years ago, the summer session beginning 2012 will extend to eight weeks from six weeks.

Phyllis Beemsterboer, M.S., Ed.D., associate dean for academic affairs, said increasing requests for more content in the curriculum, a need for added spontaneity in classes, and the pre-doctoral clinic needing to be more available to patients were the reasons for the change.

"Optimally, we want dental care to be available year-round so that people can depend upon us to be their dental provider," she said. "With this change, we are getting close to offering care 48 weeks a year."

WREB Results

The OHSU School of Dentistry recently officially received its WREB (Western Regional Examining Board) results for the Class of 2011. Of 71 dental students taking the licensing exam, 70 students — 99 percent — passed successfully on the first try.
