Consumer Health Informatics - BMI 520/620
Distance Learning       Winter 2016       3 credit hours

PREREQUISITES: Graduate level standing

COURSE DESCRIPTION: Consumer Health Informatics focuses on the intersection between consumers, information technologies and health care. It explores the design, use and impact of technologies that aim to engage consumers to participate in their health and health care. Concepts included arise from various informatics disciplines such as health communication, behavioral science, quality improvement, psychology and public health. We will review opportunities and challenges in consumer health information technology, from perspectives of various stakeholders including patients, caregivers and health professionals. Topics include: trends; information quality; access and usage; barriers and opportunities for clinical integration; role of peers online and caregivers; tools for prevention and chronic illness care, and emerging health IT.

STUDENT ACCESS:
OHSU is committed to providing equal access to qualified students who experience a disability in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and the ADA Amendments Act (ADA-AA) of 2008. If you have a disability or think you may have a disability (physical, sensory, chronic health, psychological or learning) please contact the Office for Student Access at (503) 494-0082 or studentaccess@ohsu.edu to discuss eligibility for academic accommodations. Information is also available at www.ohsu.edu/student-access. Because accommodations may take time to implement and cannot be applied retroactively, it is important to have this discussion as soon as possible. All information regarding a student’s disability is kept in accordance with relevant state and federal laws.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:
Course participants are expected to maintain academic honesty in their course work. Participants should refrain from seeking past published solutions to any assignments. Literature and resources (including Internet resources) employed in fulfilling assignments must be cited. See http://www.ohsu.edu/xd/education/library/research-assistance/plagiarism.cfm?WT_rank=1# for information on code of conduct for OHSU and http://www.ohsu.edu/xd/education/teaching-and-learning-center/for-students/index.cfm for more information on citing sources and recognizing plagiarism.

In an effort to uphold the principles and practice of academic honesty, faculty members at OHSU may use originality checking systems such as Turnitin to compare a student’s submitted work against multiple sources.

To protect student privacy in this process, it will be necessary to remove all personal information, i.e. student name, email address, student u-number, or any other personal information, from documents BEFORE submission.
