Consumer Health Informatics - BMI 520/620
Distance Learning  Winter 2017  3 credit hours

PREREQUISITES: Graduate level standing

COURSE DESCRIPTION: Consumer Health Informatics focuses on the intersection between consumers, information technologies and health care. It explores the design, use and impact of technologies that aim to engage consumers to participate in their health and health care. Concepts included arise from various informatics disciplines such as health communication, behavioral science, quality improvement, psychology and public health. We will review opportunities and challenges in consumer health information technology, from perspectives of various stakeholders including patients, caregivers and health professionals. Topics include: trends; information quality; access and usage; barriers and opportunities for clinical integration; role of peers online and caregivers; tools for prevention and chronic illness care, and emerging health IT.

Multiple lecturers may be used.

Available in hardcover and eBook formats.

COURSE FORMAT: This is an online class. Weekly materials include lectures, readings, written exercises and Discussion Forums. Materials are posted on Tuesdays. Please submit written assignments using the course Submissions on the due date. If you are unable to complete by due date, please send me an email.

Contributions to discussion forums (on topics for that week) are very important. Instructions on points for each forum will be noted each week. Forums are your main discussion with other students, so if you are not able to post by due dates, only half points will be awarded.
An individual 10 page (double spaced) paper on a topic relating to Consumer Health Informatics is due at the end of the term. Please inform me by February 5 what your topic will be. This will constitute 30% of your grade. More information will be available the 2nd week of class.

REQUIRED READINGS: Papers and other materials will be provided throughout the course website in Sakai.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. Examine consumer health informatics from the perspective of multiple stakeholders, in particular, consumers and caregivers.
2. Describe consumer trends in health information seeking and use of technology.
3. Understand the drivers of consumer health informatics.
4. Assess factors affecting consumer's ability to access, interpret, apply and evaluate digital health information and services.
5. Critically appraise political, societal, legal and ethical issues affecting consumer health information technology use and health information.
6. Identify patient tools such as personal health records and assess their utility and impact.
7. Discuss the importance of patient engagement in relation to consumer informatics tools.

COURSE GRADING:

You will receive a letter grade.

Graduate Studies in the OHSU School of Medicine is committed to providing grades to students in a timely manner. Course instructors will provide students with information in writing at the beginning of each course that describes the grading policies and procedures including but not limited to evaluation criteria, expected time needed to grade individual student examinations and type of feedback they will provide.

Class grades are due to the Registrar by the Friday following the week of finals. However, on those occasions when a grade has not been submitted by the deadline, the following procedure shall be followed:

1) The Department¹/Program Coordinator² will immediately contact the Instructor requesting the missing grade, with a copy to the Program Director and Registrar.
2) If the grade is still overdue by the end of next week, the Department¹/Program Coordinator² will email the Department Chair directly, with a copy to the Instructor and Program Director requesting resolution of the missing grade.
3) If, after an additional week the grade is still outstanding, the student or Department¹/Program Coordinator² may petition the Office of Graduate students for final resolution.

¹ For courses that are run by a specific department.
² For the conjoined courses (course number is preceded by CON_ that are run by Graduate Studies.

COPYRIGHT INFORMATION:
Every reasonable effort has been made to protect the copyright requirements of materials used in this course. Class participants are warned not to copy, audio, or videotape in violation of copyright laws. Journal articles will be kept on reserve at the library or online for student access. Copyright law does allow for making one personal copy of each article from the original article. This limit also applies to electronic sources.

To comply with the fair use fair use doctrine of the US copyright law, Sakai course sites close three weeks after grades are posted with the Registrar. Please be sure to download all course material you wish to keep before this time as you will have no further access to your courses.

DMICE COMMUNICATION POLICY:
1. If the syllabus directs the student to contact the TA before contacting the instructor, the student should do so. Otherwise, the student should contact the instructor and allow 2 business days (not including weekends) for a response.
2. If the student does not receive a response from the instructor within 2 business days, s/he should contact the TA (if there is one). When contacting the TA s/he should cc the instructor and Diane Doctor at doctord@ohsu.edu.
3. If a student does not receive a response from the TA within 1 business day (not including weekends), s/he should contact Diane Doctor at doctord@ohsu.edu and cc Instructor and TA.
4. If Diane does not reply within 1 business day (not including weekends), the student should contact Andrea Ilg at ilgan@ohsu.edu.

Please use professional etiquette when communicating with peers and the instructor. This means avoiding aggressive or offensive language, showing respect for others’ opinions and positions, and conducting yourself as if you were face to face with them. Please pay special attention to etiquette in class forums and when using email. If you notice someone violating this policy, please make the instructor and TA aware of the problem.

STUDENT ACCESS:
OHSU is committed to providing equal access to qualified students with disabilities. Student Access determines and facilitates reasonable accommodations, including academic adjustments and auxiliary aids, for students with documented disabilities. A qualified student with a disability is a person who meets the academic and technical standards requisite to admission or participation in a particular program of study. As defined by the Americans with Disability Act (ADA), a person with a disability has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities of the individual. This may include, but is not limited to, physical conditions, chronic health issues, sensory impairments, mental health conditions, learning disabilities and ADHD. Student Access works with students with disabilities from all of OHSU’s educational programs and at each campus.

Each school has an assigned Program Accommodation Liaison (PAL), who acts as an “in-house” resource for students and faculty concerning access issues for students with disabilities. The PAL works in collaboration with Student Access to implement recommended accommodations for students with disabilities.

It is recommended that you contact Student Access to consult about possible accommodations if you a) received disability accommodations in the past, b) begin experiencing academic difficulties, and/or c) are given a new diagnosis from your healthcare provider.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:
Course participants are expected to maintain academic honesty in their course work. Participants should refrain from seeking past published solutions to any assignments. Literature and resources (including Internet resources) employed in fulfilling assignments must be cited. See http://www.ohsu.edu/xd/education/library/research-assistance/plagiarism.cfm?WT_rank=1# for information on code of conduct for OHSU and http://www.ohsu.edu/xd/education/teaching-and-learning-center/for-students/index.cfm for more information on citing sources and recognizing plagiarism.

In an effort to uphold the principles and practice of academic honesty, faculty members at OHSU may use originality checking systems such as Turnitin to compare a student’s submitted work against multiple sources.

To protect student privacy in this process, it will be necessary to remove all personal information, i.e. student name, email address, student u-number, or any other personal information, from documents BEFORE submission.
