Maleia Briggs named OHSU Nurse of the Year

Maleia Briggs, RN, Care Manager at Family Medicine at Gabriel Park, is the recipient of the OHSU Nurse of the Year Award in the Clinical Care Category.

The award is presented to a nurse who demonstrates excellence as a practitioner of direct care in delivery in any clinical setting. The practitioner directs and manages care in a therapeutic manner to inspire others to transform and to transform practice. More

OHSU earns 2015 AAFP award

More

Events

- Noon-1 p.m., Tues., 5/13, EJH. More
- Graduation-Mentor Dinner 5/30. More
- Pennington Lectures, 8/7. More

Honors

Jennifer DeVoe, M.D., D.Phil., Family Medicine at Gabriel Park, is the recipient of the OHSU School of Medicine Alumni Association’s Early Career Achievement Award. The award is presented to any alumnus or alumna who has made significant career contributions in improving health and social welfare in a community setting or in the areas of scientific research or academia within 15 years of graduation. More

Links

- OAFP 2015-2016 Board of Directors
- Volunteer opportunities
- Grants, publications and presentations
- JADECOM
- Clinic awards
- New hires
- Births

Students, preceptor earn OAFP awards

Family Medicine students and a preceptor were presented with awards at the Oregon Academy of Family Physicians Celebration Luncheon on April 18 at the Skamania Lodge in Stevenson, WA.

Benjamin Holland was the recipient of the Robert B. Taylor, M.D., Award. The award honors Robert B. Taylor, MD, professor emeritus and former department chair, and is presented to a student in each graduating class who best exemplifies the qualities of the ideal family physician. Read more

Patient visits, March

- Gabriel Park: 3,297 (12 under goal)
- South Waterfront: 3,911 (266 under goal)

Phone Abandonment Rates

- Gabriel Park: 3% Golden Phone Winner
- South Waterfront: 22.7%

OAFP Award Winners

Pictured: Ben Holland and Joe Volpi (top). Mark Novak, M.D., (son); Jim Novak, M.D.; Marilyn Novak, (wife); and Vince Novak (son).