Kaiser Permanente is an integrated health care system providing comprehensive health care in many parts of the U.S. The Northwest Region serves over 525,000 members in the Portland and Salem areas of Oregon, and the Vancouver and Longview-Kelso areas of Washington. Kaiser Permanente operates Sunnyside Medical Center in Clackamas (302 beds), Westside Medical Center in Hillsboro (122 beds), and 28 outpatient medical facilities. Kaiser works in cooperation with OHSU, Providence Health System, and Legacy Health System as a teaching institution. There are more than 1000 physicians representing all specialties who practice at Kaiser Permanente; several hold faculty appointments at OHSU. The Kaiser Permanente Graduate Medical Education Director is David M. Schmidt, M.D.