

Faculty Development in Clinical Teaching Series

Join us for an upcoming series of workshops on topics relevant to effective and efficient teaching in the clinical realm.

Goals: To enhance faculty skills in clinical teaching through interactive workshops, as well as to establish a sense of collegiality among teachers across the institution.

Who should attend?

Program directors, associate program directors, any faculty member who teaches residents or students. You do not need to attend all of the sessions in the series- pick what you feel will be most useful.
