APPLYING TO THE HEALTH SYSTEMS & ORGANIZATIONAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

The Health Systems and Organizational Leadership (HSOL) program prepares nurses for roles in a variety of organizational settings from acute care, to long term care, community care, and beyond. Skills gained will allow nurses to lead in formal executive and front-line positions, quality improvement, project management, or other positions where systems-level management and leadership is needed. Nurses will learn about complex dynamic healthcare delivery systems, creating sustainable organizations, how to leverage the legislative and regulatory environment, and steward financial and human resources through effective care delivery models. Complexity and Quality science will be a central program focus.

Students study alongside faculty with expertise in complexity and quality science, systems innovations, and outcome data analysis. Students will be paired with faculty in leadership positions as they develop skills in leadership, team building, and sustaining, analysis of system wide initiatives and data based decision making. The program will provide opportunities for inter-professional education, collaboration, and practice. The OHSU curriculum is based on the national competencies for American Organization of Nurse Executives, the Council on Graduate Education for Administration in Nursing, and the ANA standards for Nursing Administration.

Degree Option: Students in this program will complete 2 years of full time study to complete the Master of Nursing degree.

Course Delivery: The HSOL program is available online, both full-time and part-time as a distance program for those in Oregon and beyond. OHSU uses distance friendly, online technology enhanced methods to bring the program to all areas of the state.
