

OREGON HEALTH & SCIENCE UNIVERSITY

National Mentoring Month & Community Fair

Date: January 27, 2011

Time: 12:00 pm – 2:30 pm

Location: OHSU Auditorium, Building 11

Nate Waas Shull, Director of Community Engagement, Portland Schools Foundation

This year is the 11th anniversary of National Mentoring Month, which focuses on the need for increased mentorship to assure brighter futures for our youth. Research has shown that volunteer mentors can play a powerful role in boosting academic achievement. Mentors help to build young people's character and confidence, expand their universe, and help them navigate a path to success.

The Center for Diversity & Multicultural Affairs is hosting a lecture by Nate Waas Shull, followed by an informational fair with community and mentoring groups. Nate Waas Shull is an advocate for children and youth throughout the Portland area and will be speaking on the importance of mentorship. Faculty, students and all staff are encouraged to attend.
