2014 PancWest Symposium
An interactive scientific meeting covering the latest advances and current obstacles in pancreatic cancer research and patient care

September 5-6, 2014
Oregon Health & Science University, Portland, Oregon

Sept 5th
Basic/Translational Science Topics
- Tumor microenvironment
- Signaling pathways and targeted therapeutics
- Tumor cell heterogeneity

Workshop Topics
- Current and future collaborative opportunities
- Technological and scientific innovations
- Multi-center funding opportunities

Sept 6th
Clinical Science Topics
- Early diagnosis and screening
- Approach to pre-malignant pancreatic diseases
- Current and future management of PNET and PDA

Pancreatic Cancer Action Network’s Patient Educational Seminar (8:30am – 12pm)
- Treatment Approaches
- Current Pancreatic Cancer Research
- Symptom and Nutrition Management

Confirmed Speakers
Lisa Coussens (OHSU)
Howard Crawford (Mayo Clinic)
Michael Gough (Providence Medical Center, Portland)
Joe Gray (OHSU)
Matthias Hebrok (UCSF)
Sunil Hingorani (Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center)
Andrew Lowy (UCSD)
Daniel Marks (OHSU)
Charles Murtaugh (Univ. of Utah)
Jeffrey Norton (Stanford)

Maria Petzel (MD Anderson)
Maike Sander (UCSD)
Rosalie Sears (OHSU)
Brett Sheppard (OHSU)
Diane Simeone (Univ. of Michigan)
Margaret Tempero (UCSF)
Judy Varner (UCSD)
Emily Bergsland (UCSF)

The registration fee is waived for students and house staff; $50 for postdocs/fellows and early career scientists; $150 for academic and medical professionals; and $300 for industry through July 31 (late registration of $75 for postdocs/fellows and early career scientists; $200 for academic and medical professionals and $400 for industry starting August 1).

20 travel reimbursement awards of up to $500 are available for students, postdocs/fellows, and early-career scientists.

Fee includes continental breakfasts, lunches, Friday reception and course materials.

For more information, please visit www.ohsuknightcancer.com/pancreatic-symposium or contact Cathy Villagomez at villagoc@ohsu.edu