

A Legacy Gift

Providing Hope For Tomorrow's Cures

We need your compassionate help to find a cure for kids with cancer.

Did you know that you and your child can donate tumor samples to research and that this gift may lead to better treatments in the near future?

These valuable samples, particularly for relapsed and progressive cancers, allow scientists the opportunity to study how cancer progresses and avoids current therapies.

Improving our understanding of childhood cancers may lead to a better outcome for future children and their families.

With your generous help a cure may be found. For more information on Leaving a Legacy, please visit www.ccurefast.org or talk with your child's doctor.
