

Mental Health and Surgical Outcomes

Surgical Patients with Normal Mental Component Scores

Surgical Patients with Below Normal Mental Component Scores

Research has shown that patients with positive mental outlooks recover better from surgery.

The Mental and Physical Component Summaries (MCS and PCS) are measures our Spine doctors use to assess patients physical functioning and mental outlook so that patients get the best care possible.

These graphs compare the surgical outcomes for patient with normal and below normal mental component summaries.