Study Spotlight

Do you use oral contraception ("the pill")? Do you suffer from headaches and/or pelvic pain during the week you aren't taking the active pill (the last pills in your pack)? If so, we have an excellent study opportunity for you.

If this sounds like you, or someone you know, call us for more information on this study.

Qualified applicants will receive one year of oral contraception at no cost, and the study reimburses $400 upon completion.

To find out about this, or other study opportunities, please call our confidential recruitment line at 503 494-3666. Study participation is a great way to support women's health, and it could result in some relief for you. Call us now to learn more.

Happy Spring!
