

July 2009

Study Spotlight

Happy Summer to all! The heat is on, and that's not just outside. Interested in participating in a birth control study? The Women's Health Research Unit is very excited about a new clinical trial we have started. The study is evaluating a new transdermal birth control patch system.

We are seeking women who are between the ages 18 and 45 of general good health, who desire contraception, and are willing to come to 6 clinic visits over one year.

This is a great opportunity to be a part of women's health research. And, all eligible study participants will receive study-related exams, lab work, and the investigational birth control patch at no cost. AND you could be compensated up to $300.

Interested? Please call us today. This study is filling up quickly, but there are still opportunities available.

Please call our confidential recruitment line at (503) 494-3666 about participating in this exciting and valuable clinical trial.

Sincerely,

Heidi Printz, Ph.D.

Research Administrator

Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology

Oregon Health & Science University

Recruitment line: 503 494-3666

The Women's Health Research Unit at OHSU: Finding New Solutions to Old Problems.