

Recognizing Outstanding Service Excellence

A-Team Public Safety

Ben Schneider from Public Safety submitted the following nomination. . .

During the “Arctic Blast” this group of Officers went out of their way to help stranded motorists during their time of need. They spent hours of their time shoveling snow, removing trees from the roadway, and helping employees with their tire chains. One particular incident occurred when a plow had gone by a home off of Homestead Drive, which is on the patrol route of Public Safety. The plow buried a homeowner's vehicle and he was trying to dig it out of a couple of feet of snow. The Officers saw this and decided that they would help. It took the Officers 45 minutes to get the homeowner unstuck and on his way. This is just one incident of many. This team deserves recognition for their dedication to the OHSU mission. They served not only OHSU staff and visitors, but also the larger OHSU community.
