

Recognizing Outstanding Service Excellence

Yen Pham
Pharmacy

Majid Tanas from Pharmacy submitted the following nomination...

Yen has officially been the assistant director of Pharmacy for the past year. Her background training has been in the community pharmacy side and was hired to lead the ambulatory, outpatient, research and operating room (OR) pharmacies here at OHSU. Since her arrival, our leadership has seen a great deal of upheaval as individuals have left the department for other ventures in their lives. During this time, Yen has taken over the inpatient pharmacy. As such, she has been in charge of all of inpatient, ambulatory, and outpatient pharmacy service operations. In this position she has worked on several initiatives to drive our department and practice forward. She has grown our business and developed practitioners; she has been focused on quality by creating compliance structures that were previously not well defined. She has also encouraged our department, in service and personnel, to provide the utmost effective care for our patients. She worked to establish the Mail Order Pharmacy, which provides care for our patients across the city and our state. She has also helped to strengthen OHSU's medical presence throughout the state. It is for this reason that I recommend Yen for a Golden ROSE Award.
