

Breeding transgenic mice? Good news! Revision to NIH Guidelines now exempts certain transgenic breedings

The NIH has recently revised its guidelines regarding the breeding of two different transgenic rodent strains. The updated OHSU policy can be viewed at:

<http://www.ohsu.edu/xd/about/services/integrity/policies/policy-detail.cfm?policyid=756222>

The IBC office will be contacting those with existing IBC registrations covering transgenic crossings to terminate the registration, if appropriate.

The eIACUC is in the process of being updated to revise the question on transgenic breeding per the revised policy.
