

CCOs & BEYOND:

Health Care Payment Innovation

7:30 REGISTRATION/CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST Governor Ballroom, Fourth Floor

8:00 WELCOME

John McConnell, PhD

Director, Center for Health Systems Effectiveness and Associate Professor, OHSU

8:15 INTRODUCTION

“The Promise of New Payment Models”

Michael Chernew, PhD

Leonard D. Schaeffer Professor of Health Care Policy, Harvard Medical School

It’s not often you see “funny” and “health economist” in the same sentence. Mike Chernew, however, is the exception. Dr. Chernew is not only at the forefront of research into payment reform initiatives, including Massachusetts’ Alternative Contract for Quality global-payment model and value-based insurance design; he’s also really entertaining.

Dr. Chernew will explain why payment reform matters and review the evidence on promising new models and their implications for Oregon’s public and private purchasers.

9:00 Break

9:15 SESSION 1: DIRECTIONS FOR INNOVATION IN COMMERCIAL PURCHASING

1. Intel’s New Purchasing Model

Brian DeVore

Director of Healthcare Ecosystem & Strategy, Intel

Intel is a large employer using its clout to forge innovative purchasing models across several states, including models that bypass traditional health plans to contract directly with providers. Brian DeVore will describe Intel’s approach and its experiences to date.

2. The New PEBB Contracts: Coordinated Care for the Masses?

Jeanene Smith, MD, MPH

Administrator, Oregon Office of Health Policy Research
Chief Medical Officer, Oregon Health Authority

The 2015 Public Employees Benefit Board contracts aim to spread the coordinated care model from Medicaid clients to the state’s approximately 131,000 commercially ensured employees and dependents. Jeanene Smith will describe the new PEBB contracts and what they portend for care delivery in Oregon.

AUDIENCE Q & A

TUESDAY
SEPTEMBER 23, 2014

PORTLAND, OREGON

10:30 Break

10:45

SESSION 2

Taking the Reins: Provider-Led Payment Innovation in Oregon

Craig Hostetler, MHA

Executive Director, Oregon Primary Care Association

Karen Shepard, MBA, CPA

Chief Financial Officer, St. Charles Health System

Douglas Walta, MD

Chief Executive, Clinical Programs, Outreach & Strategy
Providence Health & Services

Rather than wait for external mandates, some Oregon providers are pioneering their own payment reforms. These arrangements realign incentives and expand providers' freedom to reorganize care delivery. We'll hear about a primary care pilot that completely eliminates fee-for-service billing, a capitated payment arrangement for hospital care, and clinician-designed specialty bundles – and how these models are restructuring care.

AUDIENCE Q & A

Noon

LUNCH

“State Innovations: A View from Washington (DC)”

Sarah Kliff

Senior Editor, Vox.com

Journalist Sarah Kliff reports on how she's seen other states grappling with health care reform while traveling the nation for Vox.com and (formerly) The Washington Post's Wonk-blog team.

1:30

SESSION 3

Oregon's Coordinated Care Organization Model

1. Views from the Field: Reports from the Qualitative CCO Research Teams

Deborah Cohen, PhD

Associate Professor, Department of Family Medicine, OHSU

2. Early Data on Cost, Utilization, and Quality Pre- and Post-Transformation

John McConnell, PhD

Director, Center for Health Systems Effectiveness and Associate Professor, OHSU

Two teams of OHSU researchers have closely followed the implementation of Oregon's new Medicaid delivery model. Our qualitative team, led by Debbie Cohen, used site visits in combination with qualitative interviews to assess factors that promoted and hindered delivery transformation. The quantitative team, led by health economist John McConnell, analyzed cost and utilization data from the Oregon Medicaid and All Payer All Claims databases.

AUDIENCE Q & A

2:30

Break

2:45

SESSION 4: LOOKING FORWARD

Payment Reform and Research in the Next Five Years

What kinds of payment questions are coming down the 'pike in the balance of the decade? This august panel will assess developments both in Oregon and on the national scene.

Michael Chernew, PhD

Leonard D. Schaeffer Professor of Health Care Policy, Harvard Medical School

Pam Curtis, MS

Director, OHSU Center for Evidence-Based Policy

Richard Lindrooth, PhD

Associate Professor, Colorado School of Public Health, University of Colorado Denver

Mitch Greenlick, PhD

Representative, Oregon House District 33

Professor Emeritus and past Chair, Department of Public Health & Preventive Medicine, OHSU

AUDIENCE Q & A

3:45

POSTER SESSION AND RECEPTION

In Billard Room on second floor

EVENT INFORMATION

Location

Sentinel Hotel
614 SW 11th Avenue (between Alder & Morrison)
Portland, OR 97205
www.sentinelhotel.com

Cost

$65 General ($75 after 9/15)
$40 OHSU faculty/student/staff ($50 after 9/15)

Registration & information

www.ohsu.edu/chse/conference

