

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

1. Describe strategies for providing respectful care to patients of diverse cultural backgrounds.
2. Define “decision making capacity,” “competence,” and “informed consent,” and the ethical and legal aspects of medical care for patients who lack decision making capacity.
3. Distinguish between appropriate and inappropriate use of the POLST Form in advance care planning, and describe strategies for resolving conflicts between patient preferences expressed via POLST and the demands of surrogate decision makers near the end of life.
4. Identify best practices for providing appropriate pain management in the context of new social pressures and guidelines to restrict opioid prescribing.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Designed for physicians, nurses, social workers, pharmacists, chaplains, psychologists and other allied health care professionals involved in care of patients with life-threatening illness.
