Diversity & Inclusion

Diversity, equity and inclusion are central to OHSU's core values. This value sets the tone for how we operate today and where we're headed. Embracing diversity, equity and inclusion gives us the power to be better at what we do and to demonstrate integrity, compassion, and leadership in healing, teaching, research and community service. This vision isn't just expressed in words on a page.

At OHSU, there is a deep institutional commitment to equity, to examining how societal factors such as racism, economic inequalities and disparities in health and health care impact our hospital system and university classrooms, to be the torchbearers leading the way to a more inclusive community of diverse healers, thinkers and leaders. What an exciting time to be part of the OHSU community, carrying forward the simple concept that all are welcome here.
