PRIMARY ENCLOSURES.

" (iii) In the case of research facilities, any exemption from these standards must be required by a research proposal or in the judgment of the attending veterinarian and must be approved by the Committee. "

An IACUC-approved exception allowing the temporary housing of nonhuman primates in caging smaller than the minimum requirements was approved based on the availability of cages rather than scientific necessity. This affects two non-human primates.

Will be corrected by moving the animals into properly-sized enclosures by 5-27-2005. One animal was moved on 5-16-2005.

Inspection of the animal facilities was accompanied by the operations manager and chief veterinarian.

This report was conducted on May 12, 2005.

The USDA requested that two monkeys be moved to slightly larger cages.
