Dear Friends,

As we reflect on the Center’s accomplishments in the 2018-19 academic year, we pause to express our gratitude to those who so generously give of their time. In partnership with our volunteers, our impact is manyfold greater. The contributions of hundreds of volunteers range from teaching medical students, serving on planning committees, speaking at conferences, facilitating fundraising events, making compassion quilts, starring in videos, drafting policy, teaching the next generation of health care professionals, and so much more.

Our impact is made possible by the dedication, skill and caring of each of our volunteers.

Thank you for sharing your time and talents with the Center and those we serve.

With gratitude,

Susan W. Tolle, MD

Dr. Tyler Tate to Direct Professionalism and Comfort Care

The Center for Ethics in Health Care is delighted to partner with the OHSU Pediatric Palliative Care Program in sharing Dr. Tate's time so that he can pursue his love of both palliative medicine and medical ethics. Dr. Tate completed his residency in pediatrics, fellowship in clinical ethics and MA in bioethics at the University of Washington, and a fellowship in palliative care at Duke University. Since joining the OHSU faculty in September 2018, he has published five manuscripts and presented at one international and two national meetings. With funding from an endowment established by donors in memory of Miles J. Edwards, we are very pleased to welcome Dr. Tate on July 1, 2019 as the Center’s new Director of Professionalism and Comfort Care.

Dr. Ron Naito Establishes a Directorship in Serious Illness Education

The Center for Ethics in Health Care is deeply honored to announce the establishment of the Ronald W. Naito Directorship in Serious Illness Education with a $1-million gift from the Ronald W. Naito, MD Foundation to launch the endowment fund. It is Dr. Naito's hope that his lead gift will inspire others to contribute an additional $1.5 million to raise the Serious Illness Endowment Fund to the level of an endowed chair. Dr. Katie Stowers will serve as the inaugural Ronald W. Naito Director in Serious Illness Education.

The Kinsman Foundation Supports Statewide Conferences

With generous support from The Kinsman Foundation, the Center recently hosted the annual statewide Kinsman Bioethics Conference in Eugene. A highlight for the Oregon bioethics community, this conference draws healthcare professionals from across the state to gather, collaborate and share innovative practices. This year, under the leadership of Lynn A. Jansen, PhD, RN, Madeline Brill Nelson Chair of Ethics Education, the Center partnered with PeaceHealth Eugene and the University of Oregon to build the conference theme, “Raising Voices: The Ethics of Dialogue and Communication in Health Care.” Conference breakout sessions focused on the challenges experienced by marginalized populations in healthcare.

In addition to the annual Kinsman Bioethics Conference, the Center is partnering with communities throughout the state, finding new ways to empower regional leaders to improve support for honoring patients’ wishes as they near the end of their lives.

Save the Date: Celebrate the Center for Ethics 30th Anniversary

The 2019 Center for Ethics Annual Community luncheon will be held on September 16, 2019 from 11:30 AM to 1 PM at the Multnomah Athletic Club. We hope you will save the date and join us to celebrate the impact of the Center’s first 30 years and share our vision for the future.

For help in making a gift to the Center for Ethics, please contact Liz Arrington at arringtl@ohsu.edu or 503-552-0716.
