Course Description
Teams of students under the supervision of faculty advisors will contract for and deliver pro bono consulting services to health care organizations in the region, with particular preference for projects and organizations meeting the needs of underserved populations. The goal is to integrate and anchor the classroom learning for the students and to contribute value back to the community. Effective strategies for working together as a cross-professional team are an additional focus of learning. Must be taken in conjunction with MGT 554 in the following quarter. Graded Pass/No Pass. Prerequisites: MGT 520, MGT 569, MGT 570, MGT 572
