Science Cafe Speaker Series 2020

Understanding Gender and Sex Diversity

October 29, 2020: Charles Roselli, PhD
Introduction to Gender Identity and Sexual Orientation

Gender identity and sexual orientation are independent components of a person's sexuality. Dr. Roselli will discuss the relationship of sexual identity and sexual orientation to prenatal factors that act to shape the development of the brain and the expression of sexual behaviors in animals and humans.

November 5, 2020: David Lee, MD
Gender Affirmation: Physiology and Mullerian Surgery

Dr. Lee will review the embryological development of the classically "male" and "female" reproductive systems, including the physiology of variants of sexual differentiation. He will evaluate the current surgical options for these variants, and using real patient examples, discuss limitations of these surgical approaches in the context of the diversity of sexual dimorphism in our evolving culture.

November 12, 2020: Paula Amato, MD
Fertility and Assisted Reproduction for Transgender Communities

Dr. Amato will discuss the impact of gender transition on fertility and review the options for fertility preservation and reproduction for transgender persons.

November 19, 2020: Panel Discussion
Transgender Experience

A panel of transgender individuals will share their experiences.

To receive virtual presentation links, RSVP to onprcoutreach@ohsu.edu

Send questions to onprcoutreach@ohsu.edu

"Rainbow" by miri695 is licensed under CC BY-NC-SA 2.0