

THE BIOETHICS STUDY GROUP SERIES PRESENTS

END-OF-LIFE ELECTIVE PAIN PROCEDURES - CAN I CONSENT TO LIKELY DEATH?

PRESENTED BY SANDY CHRISTIANSEN, MD

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ANESTHESIOLOGY AND PERIOPERATIVE MEDICINE
WITH A SPECIAL FOCUS ON PAIN

Take a deeper dive into treating end-of-life pain with interventional approaches and the ethical decisions involved. We will discuss patient cases where the risk of complications and even death from the procedure is high. Because the patients are considered end-of-life, is it okay to offer high risk procedures? What if the patient requests to move forward with the procedure but the physician is uncomfortable?
