Books

(Note: All links below point to Bookshop, an online bookstore that supports local independent bookstores. You may also be able to order these titles directly from black-owned independent bookstores, or find them at your local library.)

- Between the World and Me, by Ta-Nehisi Coates
- Black Man in a White Coat: A Doctor's Reflections on Race and Medicine, by Damon Tweedy
- The Color of Law: A Forgotten History of How Our Government Segregated America, by Richard Rothstein (Basis for the film, Segregated by Design)
- How to Be an Antiracist, by Ibram X. Kendi
- Me and White Supremacy: Combat Racism, Change the World, and Become a Good Ancestor, by Layla Saad
- Whistling Vivaldi: How Stereotypes Affect Us and What We Can Do, by Claude M. Steele
- The Whiteness of Wealth: How the Tax System Impoverishes Black Americans--And How We Can Fix It, by Dorothy A. Brown

Listen:

- 1619, Episode 4: How the Bad Blood Started (~40 min.) - "Black Americans were denied access to doctors and hospitals for decades. From the shadows of this exclusion, they pushed to create the nation's first federal health care programs."

Watch:

- Segregated By Design (~18 min) - "Examines the forgotten history of how our federal, state and local governments unconstitutionally segregated every major metropolitan area in America through law and policy."
- Race in Medical Education (1 hr 25 min), National Conference on Race and Ethnicity Student Webinar Series, Oct. 2018 - An introduction to the harm that is caused when using race as a biological construct.
- OHSU Anti-racism Research Town Halls - Recordings of these events address topics such as the difficulties talking about race and how to be an active bystander. In addition to discussing what it is and how it works, the two part series on the Racial, Equity and Inclusion Center, presented by Antoinette Foster and Letisha Wyatt, addresses racism and anti-racism, and what OHSU is doing to become more of an antiracist institution.
