

NCFDD INSPIRED

MENTORSHIP CIRCLES

For New Faculty and Educators

NATIONAL CENTER FOR FACULTY DEVELOPMENT & DIVERSITY

OHSU is an institutional member of NCFDD, a nationally recognized independent organization dedicated to supporting faculty, post-docs, and graduate students in making successful transitions throughout their careers. NCFDD provides online career development, training, and mentoring resources including a core curriculum focused on developing key skills and strategies that lead to academic success.

PARTICIPANTS WILL LEARN HOW TO:

- start the term with an achievable set of professional goals as well as a realistic plan to meet them
- align your time with your institution's priorities and your personal values
- participate in an intensely supportive community that processes day-to-day challenges, pushes individuals when they need it, and celebrates members' successes as they occur

MENTORING CIRCLES

The office of Educational Improvement and Innovation is excited to offer the NCFDD Mentorship Circles which are open to new faculty/educators starting their journey at OHSU! Participation is open to all faculty/educators who have been at OHSU for 2 years or less and seeking accountability and peer support to propel their research productivity and work-life balance to a whole new level.

UPCOMING CIRCLES:

October 19 1:00-2:30pm via WebEx
Every Semester Needs a Plan

November 9 1:00-2:30pm via WebEx
How to Align Your Time with Your Priorities

November 30 1:00-2:30pm in Person
Daily Writing for Academic Scientists and Engineers

EMAIL FOR MORE INFO OR TO REGISTER:

MENTORSHIP@OHSU.EDU

Mentorship
and Career Design

Supporting professional aspirations, relationships, and careers