2023 Dress Code

| Clothing, cont. | • A shirt (t-shirt or turtleneck) under the scrubs for warmth is allowed, but must be in good repair and be white. No other color is permitted
• Faculty may specify circumstances where nice professional dress may be worn with a lab coat when not giving direct care in the clinical agency
• Excessively tight (“skin-tight”), revealing, or baggy clothes, including bare midriffs and cleavage exposure, is not acceptable |
| --- | --- |
| Shoes/ Hosiery | • For bedside caregivers or in areas where exposure could happen, shoes must provide adequate foot protection which includes solid, closed toe, closed heel shoes that protect from spilled body fluids or sharp instruments. (Leather or Vinyl, non-mesh shoe)
• Shoes: White or Black
• Clogs, sandals, open toed, open heeled shoes not acceptable |
| Professional Dress | • Clothing intended to give a professional, businesslike impression. Prepare to have one outfit that would be worn when directed for appropriate activities. What might this include:
• Dark Slacks (Black, Navy): no leggings/jeggings
• Dark Skirt (knee length or longer)
• Close toed, low heeled shoes
• Button-up top: solid color long or short sleeve (Black, Navy or White) |

Consequences for not abiding by the dress code may result in student being sent home from clinical, simulation, or skills lab, and a possible academic warning. If a student is sent home, he/she may or may not be able to make up missed clinical hours. It is up to the discretion of the clinical instructor.

Remember, a nursing student’s appearance is a direct reflection of his/her attitude regarding the profession of nursing and is thus a reflection on the OHSU School of Nursing program. Because you are students and not employees of any of the clinical agencies where you may do your clinical experiences, faculty may have the discretion to decide what is considered professional attire and will counsel any student if necessary.
