Welcome to OHSU Health Services!
Thank you for choosing us as the network for your Health Share of Oregon plan.

What you need to do next:

Pick a Primary Care Provider (PCP)

Your PCP is your main medical provider for non-emergency care. They are usually your first contact when you need medical help. Here's how to pick your PCP:

1. Find the form that came with this booklet.
2. Fill it out to tell us the provider you would like for your primary care.
3. Mail the form back to us in the pre-paid envelope within 30 days.
4. Or, call us at 844-827- 6592 to tell us which PCP you have picked from the list at www.ohsu.edu/health-services.
5. If we don't hear from you, we will pick one for you.

We know health insurance can be confusing. Our team is happy to answer your questions. We can help you:

- Understand your health benefits.
- Learn about referrals.
- Find behavioral health or dental services.
- Find pharmacies and understand your drug benefits.
- Know what to do if you receive a bill.
- Connect to other resources like shelter, rides, food and more.

You will also get a booklet and member ID card from Health Share of Oregon. The booklet will have more information about your benefits.

Find a list of providers at www.ohsu.edu/health-services. You can get a paper copy of the Provider Directory. You can get it in another format (such as other languages, large print, or Braille) for free. Call 844-827-6592 if you need help. Please return the form or call us with your choice. If we don't hear from you, we will assign a provider to you.

Do you have someone to speak for you when you can't? We can help you make an official document called an Advance Directive to let your wishes be known for end-of-life care.

Visit www.ohsu.edu/health/instructions-filling-out-advance-directives.

You can ask for your medication labels to be printed in both English and your preferred language.

Call or text 988 for Suicide and Crisis Lifeline

The service is available 24/7 for people having a behavioral health crisis. Chat online at 988lifeline.org. You can also dial 988 if you are worried about a loved one who may need crisis support.

Traditional Health Workers

A Traditional Health Worker is someone who is trained to walk alongside you in your health care journey. They may share similar life experiences, language and/or ethnicity with you. They can help you with questions, connect you with services and find a provider.

Working with a Traditional Health Worker is free to you as an OHP member. To begin,

- Talk with your primary care provider team or your behavioral health provider.
- Email ohsuhscareteam@ohsu.edu or call 844-827-6572.

There are five types of licensed traditional health workers in Oregon:

- Birth doula (see next page): A birth companion who provides personal, nonmedical support during pregnancy and childbirth.
- Peer support specialist: A person who gives support services to people who are or have been in mental health or substance use treatment.
- Peer wellness specialist: A trained person who also has lived experience with psychiatric conditions. They support you as part of a health team that combines mental health with primary care.
- Personal health navigator: A person who provides tools and information to help you make the best health care choices.
- Community health worker: A trusted member of a community working in public health to connect people with social and medical resources.

Traditional Health Workers are often based in primary care and behavioral health clinics as well as community organizations.

Birth doula services

Birth doulas are trained birth companions. You may choose to use services from a certified doula, along with your prenatal provider. Doulas offer personal support to pregnant members and families during pregnancy, delivery and beyond. Doulas aren't medical providers but can be a great addition to your health care team. Research shows that doulas improve the likelihood of a healthier birth for both baby and mother.

OHSU Health Service OHP members can use:

- Community Doula Alliance
- Doula Love
- Gateway Doula Group
- Heartstrings Birth Doula
