

Pediatric Trauma Across the Care Continuum

FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 2026

The STN Pediatric Trauma Across the Care Continuum (PTACC) course is an essential educational program designed specifically for nurses who provide care to pediatric patients admitted with trauma-related injuries. Recognizing a critical gap in education for this specialized group, the PTACC course has been thoughtfully crafted to address the unique challenges and complexities associated with pediatric trauma care.

The curriculum encompasses a variety of modules that delve into key topics relevant to pediatric trauma, including:

Trauma Assessment:

Understanding how to effectively assess the unique physiological and psychological needs of pediatric trauma patients.

Head & Spine Trauma:

Focusing on the specific considerations and interventions necessary for head and spinal injuries in pediatric patients.

Facial, Neck, & Eye Injuries:

Examining the unique challenges of managing trauma in these sensitive areas, including potential complications.

Shock:

Identifying the different types of shock that can occur in children and the appropriate management strategies.

Musculoskeletal Injuries:

Addressing the assessment and management of fractures and other musculoskeletal injuries in children.

Burns:

Understanding the classification, treatment, and long-term care considerations for pediatric burn injuries.

Abdominal Trauma:

Exploring the mechanisms of injury, assessment techniques, and management protocols for abdominal injuries in children.

Thoracic Trauma:

Learning how to recognize and treat thoracic injuries, including those affecting the lungs and chest wall.

Physical Abuse:

Training on recognizing the signs of physical abuse and understanding the protocols for reporting and intervention.
