Update from the STELLA Study Team

Dear STELLA Care Partners,

Thank you for your participation in the STELLA studies. This newsletter comes to you because you are (or were) part of one of the STELLA studies:

- Tele-STELLA*
- STELLA-R*
- STELLA-FTD*

By volunteering for this research, you are helping us develop programs for families across the U.S. to address the behaviors that come with advancing dementia.

Our most recent study, STELLA-FTD, launched in July 2025. We are very excited to welcome those of you who care for family members with FTD. We know it is a lot of work to enroll in this study—so thank you!

If you know of other families that may benefit from a STELLA study (including STELLA-FTD), please send them to our website here.

Our team has been busy presenting findings from Tele-STELLA about the dementia caregiving experience. We recently attended the Alzheimer's Association International Conference in Toronto, Canada. We learned a lot and met with colleagues doing similar work. Below are pictures from the Alzheimer's Association International Conference.

Thank you for all you do as a Care Partner. Your participation makes this research possible.

Allison Lindauer, Principal Investigator

Aimee Mooney, Co-Investigator
