Information on Donating Your Body to OHSU’s Body Donation Program

About us: Founded in 1976, Oregon Health and Science University’s Body Donation Program is the oldest non-profit whole body donation program in the state of Oregon. All donated bodies are handled in compliance with all federal and state laws, including the Oregon Anatomical Gift Act (revised 2007).

Mission: Donations to the Body Donation Program provide surgical simulation and research opportunities to practicing physicians, surgeons, and medical residents for the advancement of medicine. In addition, these donations help teach anatomy education to undergraduate and graduate level medical learners at Oregon Health and Science University and other similar teaching institutions in the Pacific Northwest.

Conditions: The Body Donation Program accepts donations only from individuals who are 18 years and older. The Body Donation Program can accept or decline a donation at the time of death. The most common reasons, but not all, for decline are recent unhealed surgeries, autopsy, history of communicable disease, physical condition of the decedent (extensive trauma/decomposition), pathology that inhibits adequate preparation procedures or unhealthy body mass index. If a donation is declined at the time of death, the next of kin/authorizing agent is responsible for making an alternate arrangement for final disposition. The Body Donation Program is not responsible for any expenses associated with alternate arrangements. Autopsies are not performed by the Body Donation Program and there is no formal report of findings released pertaining to studies.

Procedure for Completing Form: There are two different procedures for donation. Preregistration by the donor (Form 1) or registration by next of kin/authorizing agent (Form 2). All self-consenting donors must have decision-making capacity at the time they complete the consent form (Form 1). Please complete the following pages of the applicable consent form, including the consent signature portion in the presence of two witnesses. If an authorizing agent is completing Form 2, please send a copy of the health care directive or other document designating your ability to make decisions in regards to final disposition along with the completed consent form. Completed consent forms should be submitted to:

OHSU Body Donation Program, Mailcode L-341
3181 SW Sam Jackson Park Road
Portland, Oregon 97239
Fax: 503-418-0588
Email: donation@ohsu.edu

Once the Body Donation Program receives the consent form, an acknowledgment letter will be sent notifying you of our receipt. A donor, or in certain situations, an authorizing agent, may amend or revoke their consent for anatomical donation. Certain restrictions apply for amendment or revocation of a consent for donation. For questions call 503-494-8302.

At the Time of Death: To report a death call: 503-494-8302. Our staff is available M-F 8AM-3PM. Outside of these hours, follow the instructions on the messaging system to connect with our answering service. At the time of notification, a medical assessment is performed to determine donor eligibility. This procedure is best done with hospital/caretaker staff but can be completed with a family member depending on their comfort level.

If a donor is accepted by the OHSU Body Donation Program transportation will be arranged from the place of death to our facility. If the death occurred outside of Multnomah, Clackamas, Washington or Clark county there will be a variable transportation fee for the service. To find out what fee is applicable to the county of death, please call our office. Our transportation service will contact the next of kin in the days following the death to gather biographical information to assist in filing the death certificate. If a donor has an existing pre-arrangement or a funeral is going to be used, please contact the funeral home and share our information with them.

If a donor is not accepted, alternate arrangements with a funeral home will be the responsibility of the next of kin/authorizing agent.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Are there any conditions which would invalidate my donation?
A: The most common, but not all reasons for decline, are an unhealthy body mass index, extensive trauma, signs of decomposition, or history of communicable disease. Acceptability for whole body donation can only be determined at the time of death. To avoid undue grief and disappointment to members of your family, they should be aware of these conditions.

Q: Am I guaranteed that my body will be accepted into the program?
A: No. Acceptability for whole body donation can only be determined at the time of death after a medical assessment is completed. An alternate plan should be in place with a funeral home in the event that a body donation is not accepted.

Q: Will my body be used for teaching or research? Will my family receive a report of the findings?
A: Our program does not perform autopsies and no reports are given. The primary mission of our program is to support anatomy education to medical, dental, and other allied health students. Minimal research is supported by our program at this time. Anatomy education is the foundation of a student's medical knowledge and one of their primary courses during their first year of medical school. Students are not knowledgeable enough at this stage to recognize or diagnose diseases or conditions. Donors can also aid in continuing education opportunities for practicing residents, physicians and surgeons to learn new surgical approaches and device deployment.

Q: Can I be assured that my remains will be handled properly?
A: Yes. All donors are treated with the greatest respect, in accordance with the highest ethical standards and in full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations including the Oregon Anatomical Gifts Act. All students receive an orientation prior to working with donors; embalming and storage areas are restricted to authorized personnel only.

Q: What happens when the studies or teaching is completed?
A: Donors are cremated in the crematorium at the OHSU School of Medicine (unless specified differently on the enrollment form) and the cremated remains are returned as specified by the donor or family.

Q: How long will it be before my family receives the remains for final disposition?
A: The length of time for final disposition can be up to three years.

Q: Can I change my mind?
A: Yes. The Enrollment Form is a legal document, but it may be amended or cancelled by the donor at any time by a phone call or letter to the Body Donation Program requesting that the form be removed from the file.

Q: Does the designation of “D for Donor” on my license enroll me in the program?
A: No. A driver’s license may be coded with a “D” for donor but this license designation only qualifies someone for tissue and organ donation. Eligibility for the Body Donation Program requires a separate registration form to be completed by the potential donor, the donor’s next of kin or authorized representative.

Q: Can a donor choose to donate his organs before donating to OHSU’s Body Donation Program?
A: Due to the possible extensiveness of organ procurement it may make a potential donor ineligible to our program. Donation to our program after any organ or tissue donation will be determined on a case to case basis at the time of death.

Q: Is there a memorial service for the donors?
Yes. Oregon Health and Science University conducts an annual memorial service commemorating donors to our program. The next of kin or authorized representative will be notified of the date, time and place of the memorial service.

Q: What is an indefinite donation?
A: Indefinite donors may be used for educational or research purposes outside of the three year range. The remains of indefinite donors will not be returned to the next of kin or authorizing agent but will be cremated and placed in a shared gravespace of OHSU’s selection.

Q: Is any money paid to be a donor?
A: No. Federal Law prohibits the buying and selling of tissue or bodies donated for transplant, research or medical education.
