Winter 2015 Syllabus

Course Description
This two-term course provides students with a challenging business problem in health care that allows them to demonstrate and integrate the skills learned during the program. Student teams work with sponsors in health care organizations to define, analyze, and research problems and opportunities identified by the project sponsor. Student teams develop plans and strategies for addressing the problem and opportunity, and then create comprehensive reports for presentation to the sponsor.

Reference Materials
Materials will be available in Sakai as part of the Course Materials. Students are encouraged to keep copies of readings and links that they may want to use in the future as the materials will no longer be available once the course is complete.

Course Outcomes & Learning Objectives
Students should expect this class to require the same amount of time, if not more, than other classes with the same number of credits. Each student should expect to spend a minimum of 200 hours on the project.

Other Expectations:
- A superior team work effort.
- Regular meetings with the sponsor and faculty advisor.
- Attendance at all required face-to-face class sessions.
Course Timing and Expectations

All teams will produce a professional final report and give a presentation of results to the class and to the sponsor.

Each student team is responsible for initiating and maintaining a close working relationship with the faculty advisor for the duration of the project. The faculty advisor will be responsible for evaluating and assigning the final grades for the project and then determining individual grades based on the level of contribution of each team member. Towards this end, each sponsoring organization will be asked to complete an evaluation form and return it to the OHSU Division of Management.

Each team has a team lead. The lead ensures the team has a clear plan agreed upon by the sponsor and advisor and helps establish the schedules and milestones that keep the team moving forward. The team lead is the primary communicator between the team, sponsor and advisor. The team lead also serves as a general contact with the faculty advisor, for scheduling and other administrative type of issues such as setting meetings, discussions, etc., or sending drafts of reports. The lead is responsible for disseminating all information from the sponsor and advisor to the rest of the team.

Teams must provide regular project progress to both the sponsor and the faculty advisor.

Attendance Requirements

Attendance at the face-to-face sessions is required as is participation in the online component of the course. Students are expected to be present and participate in discussions in a professional and respectful manner. Failure to attend or participate in class may adversely affect your final grade. See the gradebook for details.

Graduate credit will be granted for a class grade of C or better, however a class grade below B is cause for serious concern.

Grades will be based on individual work and team work. Student members of each team will be asked periodically to evaluate the project and the contribution of each member of the team, including their own. The final grade will incorporate the grade of each deliverable as well as the interim assignments.

Grading criteria will reflect the quality and approach displayed by the team in the following areas:

- Start-up and organization
- Communication
- Critical thinking and analysis
- Primary and secondary research
- Opportunity assessment
- Market analysis
- Business model assessment
- Business strategy plan
Grades are due to the Registrar’s Office one week after the end of the term. Students will find official grades posted in SISweb within two weeks of the completion of the term. If at this time you do not see your grades in SISweb, please contact the Division at 503-346-0375.

Forums
Forums will be created for each team and be visible only by that team and their faculty advisor. The forums should be used for discussion of key issues, particularly when input from the faculty advisor is sought. Teams can use other forms of communication such as email, Skype, text messaging and voice calls, but should be aware that the faculty advisor might not be able to contribute as readily with forms of communication outside of the Sakai forum.

Submissions
Periodic reports will be posted through the Submissions Tool in Sakai.

Project Best Practices
The following are characteristics of successful projects.

- Determine regular times to meet, in person or by phone.
- Discuss and agree on each team member’s commitments and issues.
- Establish a good working relationship with the project sponsor.
- Establish a good working relationship with the faculty advisor.
- Determine project scope and deliverables early in the project.
- Set communication and meeting expectations with the sponsor and advisor.
- Use the advisor and other faculty to assist and review materials and ideas during the project.
- Finish work with enough time to review and revise.
- Provide a professional report and presentation.

Confidentiality and Conflict of Interest:
A project will often require access to information that is considered proprietary by the sponsor, requiring teams to maintain confidentiality of the materials. All students and faculty members will be required to sign confidentiality agreements as part of the project. This may include a covenant not to compete with the sponsor. Students with jobs or other business interests in the sponsor’s industry must take special care to avoid any possible conflicts of interest. Team members should not abuse their special position as students in order to obtain information from the sponsor’s competitors that would not normally be given to the sponsor directly. Any information of this type must be withheld from the sponsor or altered in a way that will prevent unfair loss of competitive advantage to the source.

Teams must only use OHSU email, which is encrypted, to protect the materials provided to them by the project sponsors. Teams must also use the secure cloud storage solution provided by OHSU. No materials will be archived or transmitted on personal storage locations or email servers.

Copyright Information
Every reasonable effort has been made to protect the copyright requirements of materials used in this course. Class participants are warned not to copy, audio, or videotape in violation of copyright laws. Journal articles will be kept on reserve at the library or online for student access. Copyright law does allow for making one personal copy of each article from the original article. This limit also applies to electronic sources.

To comply with the fair use doctrine of the US copyright law, Sakai course sites close three weeks after grades are posted with the Registrar. Please be sure to download all course material you wish to keep before this time.
