APPLYING TO THE POST MASTERS DOCTOR OF NURSING PRACTICE

The Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) represents the highest degree in nursing practice. Graduates receive additional preparation to expand practice in breadth and depth as well as coursework and mentorship to facilitate leadership and practice-related scholarship in their professional career. Designed for those that already have a Masters degree in an advance nursing practice (APRN) specialty or a background in management, leadership or administration, this program will prepare graduates to be leaders that drive the application of evidence and promote excellence in nursing practice and health care. As a practice-focused doctoral program, innovation and inquiry are central to graduating DNP-nurses prepared in leadership to identify, develop, and evaluate solutions to the most troubling challenges found in clinical practice and health care. This program is offered online for post-master’s DNP students. Some courses require a face-to-face intensive meeting for instruction. Students can expect to come to campus at least twice each year.

Admissions Factors
Admissions decisions are strongly based on the following criteria:

- Cumulative GPA
- Sample of written scholarly work
- Letters of recommendation
- Essay response
- Interview
