John Brigande submitted the following nomination...

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) is primarily responsible for guiding faculty, students, and staff in the finest care and most humane use of laboratory animals for biomedical research. The organizational core of the OHSU IACUC is the administrative team centered within the Office of Research Integrity. I have been a voting member of the OHSU IACUC for ~5 years and have firsthand experience of the exemplary service of the eight members of our IACUC administrative team. Odessa Reilly, Wendy Stang, Joan Phillips, Leta Guptill, Scott Huff, Barbara Cox, Philip Streeter, and Bill Dale are the IACUC administrative team. They work together to ensure the success of the biomedical research enterprise at OHSU. On behalf of the voting members of the OHSU Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee, I nominate the eight members of the IACUC administrative team for the Golden Rose Team Award to recognize their preeminence in service to the OHSU community. It is an honor and privilege to work with each and every one of you.
