

Vollum Auditorium (M1441) Quick Setup Guide

1. Connect your computer to one of the VGA video cables.
Don't forget your adapter if you need one!
2. Push the COMP button behind the right cabinet door to turn on the projector, if it's not already on.
3. Configure your computer to send video out[†]. The projector will look best at 1024 x 768 resolution.
4. Give your talk.

[†]Some computers will automatically set up the external video when you turn them on or restart them.

Macs can generally be configured in System Preferences > Displays. Look for "Detect Displays" and "Turn on Mirroring".

Most PCs have a keyboard shortcut, like Alt-F6. Look for an icon on one of the F keys that looks like a monitor.
